Elevator Part 3:

I didn't do part 3 but if I was to do it I would consider the divide and conquer method where I split the list into individuals need to be serviced going up and going down. I might need to make two list and make a method to order them so that the elevators like part two only pick up individuals and let off people in the same direction it is going.